Prices Drop At Wholesale Level, Inflation Eases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steepest drop in farm prices in 18 months drove wholesale prices down one-tenth of a per cent during August, the government said today. The report showed a further easing of inflation.

The Labor Department said prices of agricultural products fell 2.9 per cent during the month, the fifth price decline this year and the largest since a 4 per cent drop in February, 1975.

The new declines should mean lower supermarket prices for the consumer, since at least part of the food price decreases at the farm level usually are passed along to the retail level within a relatively short period of time.

Prices declined sharply at the wholesale level for grain, hogs, cotton and oil seeds, the agency said. Partially offsetting the decreases were higher prices for poultry, cattle, eggs and coffee.

Processed foods and feeds declined 2.9 per cent, the sharpest drop in this category since a 5.5 per cent drop in September, 1973.

The price trend has been a positive development in the economy for the Ford administration. Price increases have been running only about half of what they were a year earlier.

The wholesale price decline of one-tenth of a per cent in August compared with an increase of three-tenths of a per cent in July and was the first decline since February when wholesale prices fell four-tenths of a per cent.

The Labor Department said wholesale prices increased 4 per cent during the 12 months ending in August, which reflects a continuing slowdown in the rate of inflation in the economy. Wholesale prices increased 5.6 per cent during the 12-month period ending in August, 1975.

The department said the wholesale price index in August stood at 183.7, meaning that goods which cost $100 at the wholesale level in 1967 cost $183.70 last month.

On the negative side for consumers was a seven-tenths of a per cent increase in prices of industrial commodities, led by price advances for wood products, fuels, rubber, plastic products and transportation equipment.

Economists usually are more concerned about price trends for industrial commodities as an indication of the underlying inflationary pressures in the economy, since they are less volatile than farm prices.

Industrial commodities prices also increased seven-tenths of a per cent in July.

Prices of consumer-finished goods at the wholesale level dropped four-tenths of a per cent.

30 To 35 Resigning

WKC Officials Quit Because Of Pay Scale

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — About 30 to 35 Western Kentucky Conference high school football officials say they are quitting because of new standardized fees paid to officials.

Murray High School officials received confirmation this morning that four regular WKC officials have been assigned to the Murray High-Reidland game here Friday.

"Four outstanding Western Kentucky Conference officials have been assigned to our game," MHS coach John Hina said today. Hina said that the four assigned to the Tiger-Greyhound game are not among the group of officials who have resigned over the pay dispute.

In a meeting Wednesday here, only about eight officials said they will continue to officiate games. Some 20 WKC officials did not attend the meeting.

WKC President Bud Quehl of Princeton said "we hope we're not penalizing the kids, but why should we be penalized. We feel it's the (Kentucky High School Athletic Association's) Board of Control that's penalizing them."

The KHSAA, after a poll of school principals, set the fee at $25 per game plus mileage on the basis of that traveled by the member of the officiating crew who drives the farthest to the game.

In most areas of the state, the pay for officiating was raised from $20 to $25 and the increase wasn't offset by the cut in mileage payments.

The WKC, however, already had been paying $25 a game, so the officials had to take a cut.

Quehl said it wasn't the money that angered officials in the area between Bowling Green and Paducah as much as the KHSAA's delay in announcing the standardization of fees until Aug. 19. The original decision was made sometime in May, he said.

Despite the mass resignations, league Commissioner Joe Russell said "there will be football in the WKC this weekend. We've still got a few officials left and will be contacting those that were not at the meeting."

Bill Wise, assistant KHSAA commissioner, said officials will be moved in from other parts of the state to officiate games.

"The games will go on as planned," Wise said. "We have a little surplus of officials in the Louisville, Lexington and Elizabethtown areas, so we can do it."

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—The Murray High School Tiger Band begins its 50th year tomorrow night as the MHS football team takes on Reidland High School, in the grid opener here.

MHS Band To Open 50th Season This Friday

The Murray High School Band begins its 50th year Friday night at the Murray High-Reidland football game at Holland Stadium.

The largest band in the history of the Jackson Purchase, 173 members, will be fielded as the band begins its Golden Anniversary year.

Band Director Joe Sills said the band will present its competition show, which will undergo some changes from week to week, as additions and deletions are made to enhance the overall effect. The drills for the 1976 season are more drum corps oriented than ever before, most evident in the style of step that is utilized, Sills said.

In past years, a high knee step has been the primary style used by the band, with variations of military stride and drum corps glide included. "We are constantly reevaluating our program and attempt to be as up-to-date in our methods as possible; the glide step enables students to march and play better because there is a minimum of motion of the head, compared to a high-step," Sills said.

"More and more there is an emphasis on musicianship and playing ability in today's marching bands," he continued. "We do include some of the military stride and high knee steps for variety and emphasis."

The color guard has been increased to 24 flags and seven rifles, and plays an increasingly important role in the total presentation, Sills said. These units are under the direction of James Light, assisted by captains Kathy Fenton and Linda Perrin.

The majorettes are under the direction of captain Julie Outland and the field commanders are Pat Baggett and Tammy Parker, who are returning as a team for their second year.

Music in the drills are special arrangements of "Crown Imperial,"

"If," "Slaughter on 10th Avenue," "Cathedral Chorus," and "The Way We Were," which features band president and trumpet section leader Terri McConnell.

This will be the band's most active season, Sills said. They will perform at most of the Murray High ballgames, and will be a Murray State University honor band and will perform at halftime at the MSU-Delta State game on Saturday, Sept. 11. This is the fourth consecutive year for the band as an honor band.

Festival and contest competitions will include Sept. 25, KMEA regional band festival at Murray State; Oct. 2, the Owensboro Invitational Band Contest; Oct. 16, the Contest of Champions at Middle Tennessee; Oct. 23, the Memphis State Invitational; and Oct. 30, the Festival of Champions at Murray State.

"We are highly optimistic about this year's band," Sills said. "Each year, the band seems to be more cooperative and more dedicated as well as being better musicians. Student leadership over the past few years has been the one outstanding factor that has contributed greatly to the band's success. We have gotten off to our best start ever and are looking forward to a fine year," he concluded.

First Of Three Carter-Ford Debates Slated September 23

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stay tuned for the Great Debates, starring (in alphabetical order) Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford, and billed as the political spectacle of the decade.

Democratic presidential nominee Carter and Republican candidate Ford agreed Wednesday to meet for three nationally televised debates, with the first live confrontation scheduled for Sept. 23, a Thursday.

The debates will be the first between presidential candidates—since the clashes between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon in 1960.

Negotiators for the two candidates reached agreement on the format for the debates after an all-day meeting Wednesday with representatives of the League of Women Voters, which will sponsor the debates.

In addition to the trio of debates involving the presidential candidates, an unprecedented debate between the two vice presidential candidates, Republican Sen. Bob Dole and Democratic Sen. Walter Mondale, will be slipped in after the second Carter-Ford meeting.

The topic for the first Ford-Carter debate will be economic and domestic issues. The second debate topic will be defense and foreign policy and the final meeting will be open to any subject.

Both Ford and Carter hailed the agreement.

"I believe the American people will be the winners," Ford said.

The President earlier had spent part of the day arguing for increased defense spending and a strong U.S. military posture overseas in a speech before a National Guard group.

Then, meeting with reporters at a hastily called news conference on the White House lawn, Ford said debates "are very important" and will give voters "an honest picture of the candidates."

Meanwhile, Carter said at his home in Plains, Ga., that the debates will not make or break either candidate unless one of them "failed miserably."

He added: "I think I can hold my own. I do intend to be aggressive and to draw as sharp a comparison as I can between President Ford and myself and our ability to lead this country."

Carter indicated that the Ford negotiators had given way on nearly every point that Carter stressed. Carter had wanted the first debate topic to be the economy and domestic affairs, which it will be, and not foreign policy, which Ford had wanted. And the debate will take place somewhere other than Washington, also as Carter had sought.

While the final details of the debates are to be decided later by the League of Women Voters, Rita Hauser of the league's organizing panel said the initial meeting will be a 90-minute session at a yet undetermined site.

Meanwhile, Carter spokesman Rex Granum said the candidate will sell his stock holdings if elected president but has not decided what to do about his Georgia peanut business or farms.

Carter made public his 1975 federal income tax returns Wednesday, showing he paid $17,484 in taxes on a total income of $136,138.

He also issued a financial balance sheet showing that at the end of 1975 his net worth was $811,982, including assets of $819,267 and liabilities of $7,285.

According to the financial statement, the Carter holdings included $348,444, representing the estimated market value of his 91 per cent ownership of Carter Farms Inc., and $330,062.49, representing his interest in the partnership that runs Carter's Warehouse, the family peanut business.

Ford issued a statement early in the year showing his net worth as of last year to be $323,489.

Dole spent Wednesday stomping the red clay of Carter's home state in search of votes, telling the Georgia GOP Central Committee that the Democratic nominee is losing support in the South.

MSU Salaries Are Released

The salaries of all faculty and staff members at Murray State University have been inserted into the minutes of the Board of Regents as directed by the board at its May meeting.

Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the salary schedule should contact Kai Spencer, assistant to the president, whose office is in Sparks Hall.

LIBRARY NOTES

From Margaret Trevathan

New books at the Calloway County Public Library include the following:

THE JIGSAW MAN, by Dorothea Bennett Coward.

Twenty-four days before Christmas Phillip Kimberly read the newspaper galleys of his own obituary. When next he finds himself alone, powerless, and consumed with pain in a hospital recovery room, the reader is driven to discover who this desperate man really is.

FINDING MY FATHER, by Rod McKuen Coward.

One of America's most read poets writes a personal account of his lifelong search for the father he never knew.

HAWTHORN HILL, by Doris Shannon. St. Martin's Press.

Moving from the pastoral life of the English countryside to the bloody violence of the French Revolution, the author fashions a panoramic romance of suspense and heroism.

THE LORMES OF CASTLE RISING, by Fanny Craddock. Dutton.

Life at Castle Rising is lavish, replete with love affairs, banquets, scandals, balls and tragedies in this first book of a trilogy that charts the rise and fall of a great family.

THE ART OF DECORATIVE STENCILING, by Adele Bishop. Viking.

By substituting clear acetate for more conventional stencil materials, and by using fast-drying japan paint, the authors have found it possible to create superb design effects with ease.

ASH, by David Walker. Houghton.

Ash at last finds some meaning in what he calls his botched-up life—he finds it in Lorna just as he finds it in writing a novel.

CHILDREN OF DUNE, by Frank Herbert. Putnam.

In this final segment of a science-fiction trilogy, the author returns to Arrakis and chronicles the next step in the evolution of that planet and the human race.

JOE GENOVESE'S FRANKFURTER LENTILS

When available, steamed chestnuts make a delightful addition.

1½ tablespoons olive oil

1 medium onion, thinly sliced

1 clove garlic, minced

1 pound lentils (2 and 1-3rd cups), rinsed

1 quart water

2 cups stock or consommé

8-ounce can tomato sauce

1 bay leaf

2 whole cloves

2 tablespoons minced celery leaves

8 frankfurters, cut in 1-inch lengths

Salt and pepper to taste

In a large saucepot in the hot oil gently cook the onion and garlic until onion wilts. Add the remaining ingredients except the frankfurters and salt and pepper. Bring to a boil; simmer, covered, until tender—30 to 45 minutes. Add frankfurters; simmer 10 to 15 minutes longer; add salt and pepper. Makes 6 servings.

House plans for brand new home or changes in old houses begin with two equally important considerations—the family and the building site. Families may require the greatest amount of research and time and effort. Each is an entity all its own, as is each member of the family. Family size, age, health, and resources are all variables that influence housing selection. — Juanita Amonett, Paducah.

You can use two lemons and two trays of ice cubes to clean your garbage disposal. Cut lemons into eighths, put them down the disposal with the ice cubes on top of them. Then turn on the cold water and operate your disposal until everything is gone. The lemons help clean the blades and get rid of odors. The ice makes the grease thicker so it can be chopped and flushed out. — Pat Curtsinger, Benton.

Your home reflects the interests and personalities of everyone who lives there. So to make the most of each room, work out your furniture arrangements with family members and family activities in mind. Ask yourself these questions as you study each room: What do we do here now? Is there something else we'd rather use this room for? Could we make it more inviting by adding some furniture, taking some away, or moving some activity to another room? What might the children enjoy doing here? What are their interests? How much entertaining do we do? How much space is available? What furniture do I have to work with? — Mildred Potts, LaCenter.

Do you know Cancer's seven danger signals? They are: - change in bowel or bladder habits, - unusual bleeding or discharge, a sore that does not heal, - indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, - obvious change in wart or mole, - nagging cough or hoarseness, - thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere. Half of the cancers start in parts of the body that can be examined easily by a physician during an ordinary office visit. Earlier diagnosis and prompt treatment could save the life of half of the people. — Maxine Griffin, Clinton.

FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1976

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Important now: common sense, logical analysis and calm appraisal of all situations. Job and financial matters highly favored, but take no risks.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21)

Don't make snap decisions and don't expect the "worst" — a tendency now. No matter how difficult your tasks, you can do a better job than you may think.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Mercury influences stimulate your ambitions and incentives. This is no time for worry or doubt. You can accomplish a great deal if making the best use of your talents.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Your innate self-reliance and your ability to come back stronger after meeting and besting challenges will serve you well now. Think and judge with tolerance.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

This is a time for review — to find missing links, details hidden to the casual eye, to change a course which is obviously leading to a dead end.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Not too much planetary help, but an alert person like yourself can always manipulate an "off" day into one that's both interesting and satisfying — often in an unexpected manner.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

The strong-minded must make doubly sure they are right before acting, lest they carry others down the wrong road. The usually well-balanced Libran should keep this in mind.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)

* Consider all propositions and suggestions offered, but do not be inveigled into anything that's not "your cup of tea." Fine influences stimulate your ambitions.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Do not jeopardize a dandy opportunity to stabilize your REAL interests now and DO by-pass nonessentials. Have a try at an eye-catching new method.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Considering this day's fine stellar influences, you should easily be able to produce top-notch results, increase assets, reanimate ambitions.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Under day's favorable aspects, you can win new laurels by capitalizing on your fine imagination and by pooling ideas with those who share your enthusiasms.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Avoid restlessness, regrets over past errors, apprehension. These could all interfere with your progress. Step firmly, but also lightly and tactfully.

YOU BORN TODAY are noted for devotion to duty and a sense of responsibility. You are intellectually inclined, a serious thinker and often identified with "causes" to better the lot of mankind. The well-developed Virgoan will be a mainstay in family and community; through his gifts for statesmanship and diplomacy, may even become a sturdy pillar on the national scene. Creative and imaginative as well as practical, there are many fields in which you could succeed, but you would probably be happiest as a teacher, or writer. You have keen critical faculties and would make an outstanding drama or literary critic. Science and the law are also suited to your talents. You would probably prefer art as a hobby rather than a vocation. Birthdate of: Sarah O. Jewett, novelist.

University Women's Society Plans Events For The Year

Mrs. Donald Bennett, current president of the Murray State University Women's Society opened her home for a coffee and planning session for the current year.

The officers and committee chairmen of the organization were invited to the lovely home on South Sixteenth Street to socialize and exchange ideas for what promises to be an interesting and exciting year.

The Murray State University Women's Society is a means for University women of varied interests to meet socially. Membership is open to active and retired faculty and staff and to wives or widows of faculty and staff. Several festive events to which all members are invited are planned.

In addition, the society will again sponsor such special interest groups as: Bridge, Gourmet, Physical Fitness and Crafts. These groups will each devise programs for their members.

Newcomers to the University Community are especially invited to join.

All faculty and staff and wives of faculty and staff arriving on the campus this year are cordially invited to coffee at the home of Mrs. Howard Keller, 1702 Audubon Drive, at ten o'clock in the morning on September 11.

Along with Mrs. Keller, secretary, other hostesses for this event are Mrs. Bennett, president and Ellen Spencer, vice-president and Virginia Strohecker, Treasurer. They will be assisted by committee chairmen.

At this welcoming coffee, more will be told about the purposes and plans of this organization.

Parents Upset About Her Male Roommate

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was recently transferred to a large city where the crime rate is very high. She is 29, unmarried and self-supporting, and she has always had very high moral standards. She told us that she would try to find a roommate to share expenses.

She telephoned us last Sunday to say she'd found a very nice GENTLEMAN who is now her roommate! She assured us that she rented a two-bedroom apartment, that everything was on the up and up and that there was no romantic interest whatsoever! She explained that a male in the apartment is much better protection in a big city than another girl is. He is 33, single, of course, and an assistant coach at a high school.

Abby, I believe our daughter and trust her. When I told her father, he said maybe it will be "innocent" for a while, but not for long. Also, when people find out she's living with a man, her reputation will suffer. What do you think?

OLD-FASHIONED PARENT

DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: A self-supporting 29-year-old woman is old enough to select her own lifestyle, and I think her reasons for preferring to share an apartment with a man are valid.

As for her reputation "suffering": It won't suffer among those who really know her, and that's what counts.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has this friend who is always dropping in around supertime. Of course we have to ask him to stay for supper, but that's not the half of it. He sits around until 1:00 or 2:00 in the morning.

We've had to change our plans because of his unexpected visits. Sometimes he even brings his girlfriend along.

We have hinted that he should please let us know when he's coming, but it hasn't done any good. What should we do? We don't want to hurt his feelings, as he's a very sensitive man.

NEEDS HELP IN OHIO

DEAR NEEDS: Sensitive? No way! Quit hinting. That's like using a BB gun when you need a cannon. Tell him what you told me. And if you can't get him to respect your wishes, you deserve the inconvenience he's causing you.

DEAR ABBY: The person who complained about our rising postal rates should count his blessings. Let's make some comparisons:

A first class letter costs 18¢ to mail in Britain, 17¢ in Japan, 18¢ in France, 19¢ in Germany and 23¢ in Sweden! In the U.S.A. for 13¢ plus the price of a greeting card, you can:

Warm a heart, hold a hand, lend an ear, tickle a funnybone, dry an eye, surprise a child, woo a sweetheart, toast a bride, welcome a stranger, wave goodbye, shout bravo and even start a tradition.

Why dwell on how much things cost? Instead, be grateful for how much can be done for so little!

Buck up, WOONSOCKET, buck up!

JEANNETTE LEE: K.C., MO.

DEAR JEANNETTE: Thanks for a dandy day-brightener.

Women Urged To Branch Out

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP)—A program designed to help and encourage more women students to train for and apply for positions in traditionally male careers is being undertaken by St. Olaf College here.

College officials hope the $100,000 three-year effort, funded by the Mellon Foundation, will convince men and women — students and faculty — that women can and do function effectively in such fields as medicine, law, the ministry and executive-level administration.

The heart of the program is a series of seminars, panels and informal conferences to acquaint women students with the problems and rewards of careers that have been considered "for men only." It also deals with the difficulties women face in trying to break into these fields and in working with men once they are in.

The Career Advisory Panel, a group of 11 women now working in areas generally associated with men, have come to the campus frequently during the first year of the program's operation to hold sessions on specific aspects of their career.

Included are a lawyer, a pathologist, a pastor, an engineer and several corporate administrators. Their work with students and faculty is coordinated by a woman hired by the college specifically to help women graduates with the problems they face in finding employment.

A research program is being conducted concurrently with the career attitude change program to determine its effectiveness.

Mary Collier Hays Is Married At Washington

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mary Collier Hays, daughter of Mrs. Mary Louise Hays of Paducah and the late Golan C. Hays of Murray, to Norman S. French, son of Mrs. Ralph Berry of Versailles and the late Capt. Hugh S. French.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized on Saturday, August 14, at ten a.m. at the Andrews Air Force Base Chapel, Washington, D. C. with Chaplain Ewing officiating.

The bride wore for her wedding an off-white formal cotton gown with fitted empire bodice, complemented with a v-neckline, long lace sleeves and full skirt, and carried a bouquet of roses, white daisies, and baby's breath with white ribbons.

The bride received her Bachelor and Master's degrees from Murray State University and is now employed by the Census Bureau in Maryland.

Her matron of honor was Mrs. Tommy Burris of Alexandria, Va., who wore a formal gown of pink linen with a square neckline etched in white lace and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. French is a salesman for a hospital supply firm and served in the United States Army for seventeen years.

Following the reception the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Ocean City, Md., and are now residing at 2031 Brooks Drive, No. 219, Suitland, Md.

'Free' Appliances

Have you won a free stereo, sewing machine, or other appliance? Did you receive an offer for one of these at a ridiculously low price? Many Kentuckians have won, only to end up losing. Let's examine these offers.

The game begins when you receive a certificate through the mail informing you that you won a "free" sewing machine, television or stereo or a "check" for a portion of the purchase price. The prize is described including its monetary value. The trick to this scheme is that the prize will cost YOU money. A monthly or yearly charge to cover either a service contract or a portion of the cost of the item beyond the amount won is required. Frequently, the winner is requested to come to the store to inspect the merchandise and accept or reject the offer.

What's wrong with these offers? The amount you must pay is often higher than the average retail value of the item. Be sure to compute the yearly or monthly costs so that you are aware of the total amount of money involved. Is the merchandise worth the price it will cost you?

Beware of the high pressure sales tactics. Why must you decide immediately to accept the offer? A reputable businessman can wait on your answer until tomorrow. The gimmick salesmen are fly-by-night operators.

A contest implies that there are losers as well as winners. These fake contests have everyone winning. How many other people that you know have won?

The promises of warranties or reliable repair service are often false. Ask how long they've been in business, who does the repair work and what does the warranty include.

You can protect yourself against fraudulent business practices such as this by remembering to be skeptical of advertising tactics. "Special offer," "free," and "for only a few dollars more" are your clues to start investigating.

If you receive an offer like this or if you have any other consumer complaint, contact the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, Frankfort, Ky. 40601, or call toll-free on the consumer hotline: 1-800-372-2960.

Today

In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Sept. 2nd, the 246th day of 1976. There are 120 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1864, during the Civil War, Union forces under Gen. William T. Sherman occupied the city of Atlanta.

On this date:

In 31 B. C., Mark Antony and Cleopatra were defeated by Octavius Caesar in the battle of Actium.

In 1666, the great fire of London broke out. It burned for several days, destroying 13,000 homes.

In 1789, the U.S. Treasury Department was established with Alexander Hamilton as secretary.

In 1901, Vice President Theodore Roosevelt said in a speech at the Minnesota State Fair: "Speak softly and carry a big stick."

In 1940, the United States transferred 50 destroyers to Britain for a lease of military bases in Newfoundland and the British West Indies.

In 1963, Gov. George Wallace stopped integration at Tuskegee High School in Alabama by encircling the building with state troopers.

Ten years ago: In a communique, France and Cambodia signed by President Charles De Gaulle and Prince Norodom Sihanouk demanded that all foreign troops get out of Vietnam.

Five years ago: The government announced that wholesale prices were up three-tenths of one per cent, mostly before President Nixon's wage-price freeze was announced.

One year ago: Palestinian guerrillas threatened to step up their attacks on Israel to wreck the Sinai agreement between Egypt and Israel.

Today's birthdays: Writer Allen Drury is 58 years old. Dancer and choreographer Marge Champion is 53.

Thought for today: Once a woman has forgiven a man, she must not rehearse his sins for breakfast—Marlene Dietrich.

Bicentennial footnote: Gen. George Washington, after the defeat of American forces on Long Island, wrote: "Our situation is truly distressing."

Garrott's Galley

One Time That Harry Sparks Didn't Have Much To Say

By M. C. Garrott

Harry Sparks has cracked a lot of humor in his day, much of which has been at some other's expense. Humor runs in the Sparks family. This was reflected a few weeks ago at a luncheon at Murray State honoring Dr. and Mrs. Sparks and part of ceremonies naming the Administration Building in his honor.

At the microphone was Dr. Sparks' brother, Robert, a Lexington businessman, and for several minutes he had the retired fifth president of Murray State squirming like a worm on a fish hook. As he gave the luncheon guests a glimpse of young Harry growing up over in Rockcastle County, here are some of the tales brother Robert told about this distinguished Calloway Countian.

"Harry was rather talkative at home," Robert said, "and being the next of kin, I wasn't allowed to say much. When he was about 5 or 6 years old, it was said he would preach for a nickel or cuss for a dime. He didn't cuss much, so he has done a lot of preaching."

"He was a unique baby. He was very outstanding, quite different from his brothers and sisters. We all sucked our thumbs and had buck teeth. Harry didn't suck his thumb. He sucked two of his fingers. Dad couldn't break him of it. He put acidity, coal oil, turpentine and different other things on Harry's fingers. He was 10 or 12 years old and still sucking those two fingers. It was rather embarrassing."

"One night at supper—we ate supper at night in the mountains, not dinner like we do now—my oldest brother got up and said he was going to milk. Harry was sitting there with his mouth full of beans and couldn't hear. All at once he came to, and asked if he could be excused from the table."

"It turned out he had to get his fish hooks out of the cow's bran. Dad quizzed him and learned that he had hidden his fish hooks in the cow's bran to keep me from borrowing them. He got there too late. My brother had fed the cow, and Harry spent the next two days in the cow pasture looking for his hooks. THAT was when he stopped sucking his fingers."

"Harry loved the out of doors," he went on. "He never missed a chance to go fishing or hunting if someone else would row the boat or carry the game. He even had a trap line at one time. Something kept robbing his traps, and he was sure it was a timber wolf, a cougar or some kind of carnivorous animal because he was baiting his traps with chicken innards."

"He couldn't catch it. It outsmarted him week after week, so he decided to make a trap gun. He got the spindle out of a Model T Ford and a 20-gauge shotgun shell that would fit right where the king bolt had been. He rigged up this gun with a string and killed a big black and white house cat."

"It was as big as a dog, and he went around bragging about how he had saved all the sheep and lambs in the neighborhood and how this cat had gone wild and was killing everything. One day he met an old lady on the street."

"Harry," she said, "I hear you have killed a cat. I have one missing."

"Was your cat a big yellow cat?" Harry asked.

"No," she replied. "My cat was a black and white cat. I'm mighty glad you didn't get my cat." Now, Harry didn't lie to her, but he let her mislead herself anyway.

"One time he and a high school chum took some 2x4's and made a 20-foot cross, wrapped it with burlap, saturated it with coal oil, tied it to a stump on a mountain overlooking Mt. Vernon and set it on fire. They then disappeared into the forest."

"The Red Pasture Shatalkwa was in session, and it was a hot August night. They had the sides of the tent rolled up and the Rev. Dr. Frank Church was there preaching on sin. All of a sudden one of the village nitwits came running down the hill and yelled, 'There are 40 or 50 men coming on big black horses with hoods and white robes and waving swords, and that broke up the Shatalkwa.'"

"We never did find out whether Dr. Church was for or against sin, but things were real quiet around town for a week or two. This was before the days of juvenile delinquency. Now, I have called the attorney general, and he said I could tell these things and that it wouldn't affect Harry's pension."

"Harry loved to play marbles. He was a pretty good marble player. I always hated to see him play marbles because when he did he wore out his breeches. I always had patches on my knees because I got all the hand-me-downs. It's pretty bad being the smallest brother of four. I never had a new overcoat until I went off to college, and it was Harry who sent me the money to buy it."

"The greatest thing Harry ever did for me was to teach me not to curse. He wouldn't let me smoke. He talked me out of marrying my high school sweetheart. He told me about environment, heredity and all that stuff. He did more talking than he did working."

"He has amounted to a lot more since he married Lois than he did before. With her guidance, he has been a great brother, but he would have been a pretty good one even without women's lib."

"Welcome Back, Students"

The Humane Society of Calloway County wishes to welcome MSU students (back) to Murray. While we are a society that has in common our desire to provide a healthy and safe environment for animals, we assure you that we are concerned for people too. If you are one who shares our ideals, let us assure you that we welcome your membership into the Society.

We are a young organization, having been founded in 1975. Yet, we are one of the fastest growing groups in the area. We now boast of more than 150 members, many of whom are students. Students have served on the Board of Directors, rescue squad, animal welfare committee, and as dog pound helpers.

To encourage this kind of student participation the Society has a special $3.00 student membership. We have several projects planned for the future which need your help and which would be good experience for you. Some of the ongoing services we perform for the community are: rescuing, nursing and boarding injured animals and abandoned baby animals; helping with the placement of unwanted animals; education of the public to its responsibility toward animals; helping to improve conditions at the dog pound; handling complaints of abuse to animals; working toward the establishment of an animal shelter and helping in the prosecution of serious offences against animals.

If you are interested in joining the Society or asking more questions about it please call our President Dr. Keith Heim at 753-3994. If membership is not presently possible, we hope you will conduct your life in a way that demonstrates your acceptance of your responsibility for the health and safety of animals. If you will do that, you are already an honorary member in spirit.

Bible Thought

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; My God; in Him will I trust. Psalm 91:2.

When one's dwelling place is the Lord, he lives in safety from all manner of spiritual evil and from a great deal of physical evil as well.

Isn't It

The Truth

Man is an ungrateful wretch. He hates his benefactors and he would rather get rich than accept a dime from his government. Yet, who can blame him? A citizen can get pretty damn tired saying "thanks" all the time.

Let's Stay Well

Power Mowers Are Hazardous

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Even though power lawn mowers are useful devices, they are potentially hazardous. A wider appreciation of possible danger of injury by them is desirable.

Reporting in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, Edwards Schwentker, M.D., and associates pointed out that about 180,000 power mower injuries take place annually in the United States. The authors feel that the majority of such accidents result from the misuse of the hand-propelled rotary mower.

The larger tractor lawn mowers often have greater power and may be even more hazardous. Such mowers are rapidly increasing in number. Riding such mowers is a fun thing! The dangers are too frequently ignored.

In their article in the medical journal, the authors describe 18 cases of injuries to children, aged three to 11 years old, who were run over by tractor-type riding mowers and who sustained severe injuries. Altogether, the 18 children have required 57 hospitalizations.

The accidents may occur when a child is a passenger on the mower or playing nearby, either being injured by the mower or some flying object driven through the air by the powerful blades.

The resulting wounds may be deforming and crippling, leading to amputations of parts of limbs and even to death. In an interview in The Wall Street Journal, Dr. Schwentker told of a case which occurred after the article had been completed. In this instance, the child was decapitated.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission may require manufacturers to attach warnings to the mowers, even showing arms and legs being cut off by such machines. The manufacturers feel that such gruesome illustrations are not needed but recognize that the accidents require some additional efforts at prevention.

Owners of power mowers must come to assume a greater sense of responsibility for their safe use, especially when children may be hurt.

Q: Mr. H.R., a farmer, complains that he and members of his family have been troubled this summer off and on with lung irritation (cough, congestion, and tightness—like asthma) and wants to know the probable cause.

A: Life on the farm can expose you and your family to a number of irritants which could be causing the trouble. They include agricultural chemicals, dander from animals, pollen and molds, and dust.

You are probably inhaling the material that is causing the irritation. Try to recall to what you have recently been exposed when you have a flare-up.

The Agricultural Medical Institute at the University of Iowa is studying such problems, and I suggest that you write to Donald Morgan, M.D., at the Institute in Oakdale, Iowa 52319, or see your physician. Perhaps the two of them could work together to find the source of your problem.

Q: Mrs. P.Z. confides that she and her husband, happily married for five years, had a severe misunderstanding and separated for a few weeks. Now that they are reunited, they are having trouble getting back to the same level of understanding, and she asks for comment.

A: You and your husband are obviously mature and sensible. Give yourselves a little time to adjust. Take a short vacation if you can. Different surroundings may help.

Tough Reidland To Face Tigers In Opener Friday

By MIKE BRANDON

Ledger & Times Sports Editor

When the halftime show by the Murray High Tiger Band ends Friday night, people will be doing some reminiscing.

Band director Joe Sills has chosen the popular number "The Way We Were" to close out his halftime program.

The way we were: Will the Tigers remember the way they were in 1974 when they won the State Class A title, will they remember the way they were last year when they had a break-even season or will they remember the way they were after their first game of the season last year?

If it's the last choice, then it's good. Because the first game of last season, Murray High got outplayed and physically beaten into the ground by a tough Reidland club.

And Friday at 8 p.m., the Tigers will kick off this season against the same tough Reidland club.

"They just plain old whipped us last year," Murray High Coach John Hina said.

"We're going to be thinking about that but of course, any team will do that."

Reidland went on to post a 7-3 season record last year. This season, they are 1-0, having taken a 12-6 opening game victory over Marshall County last week.

Reidland is a very aggressive club. And in pre-season talk around the area, Reidland did very little talking on the positive side.

Supposedly, Reidland wasn't supposed to have that much talent and speed. It didn't look that way Friday though in their win over the Marshals.

"I was very impressed with them," Hina said. "They are a very well coached club and have several large kids. Not only do they have size but they have ability."

The quarterback spot was supposed to be a problem. Junior quarterback Tom Harold had not played any varsity ball. But Friday against Marshall County, he fired three complete passes in four attempts for 78 yards.

One of the passes was a 40-yard scoring bomb to Kevin Lyles, a 5-7 senior split end.

Also impressive in the Greyhound victory was 5-8, 185-pound senior runningback Tony Hayden. He rushed for 76 yards on the ground.

Hina said one of the toughest players on the field was Reidland's defensive end Craig Henry, a 6-3, 220-pound senior who was an All-WKC choice last year.

Like Murray High, Reidland operates out of the pro-set offensive formation, either in the "I" or split.

"With them having a game under their belts, they will have an advantage," Hina said.

"To know what the heat feels like in the fourth quarter has to be an advantage. We really don't know how strong we are or how fast we are or anything."

"But we are as ready as we can be for an opening game," Hina said he hoped a large crowd would be on hand.

Connors Cruises,

Ashe Struggles

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)

— Jimmy Connors, as relentless as ever, won impressively. Arthur Ashe, uncomfortable on clay, won unimpressively.

The clay court specialists — Guillermo Vilas, Adriano Panatta and Manuel Orantes — battered their opponents into submission from the baseline. Volatile Ilie Nastase had little chance to misbehave, winning by default.

Bjorn Borg didn't play, and that was a sore point with Harold Solomon who did — and wished he hadn't. Solomon, seeded 10th, dropped a 7-5, 6-4 decision to 19-year-old Billy Martin.

It was opening day at the U.S. Open Tennis Championships, the world's second biggest tournament with the world's biggest pot — $416,600. Connors began the day by whipping South Africa's Bob Hewitt 6-3, 6-3 under warm, sunny skies at the West Side Tennis Club.

"I feel like Reidland will have an outstanding club and of course we are capable of playing exciting football so anyone in the area who likes to see good high school football should come out Friday," the Tiger coach added.

In addition to good football, anyone who likes good music should also come out to Holland Stadium.

The Murray High Tiger Band, celebrating its 50th anniversary, is 173 strong this year.

That figure represents about one-fourth of the total enrollment at Murray High and is a record for the school. Not only that but it is probably the biggest band ever assembled in the Jackson Purchase, even bigger than Murray State's band.

Reidland's band won't be here Friday. But you can bet their football team will be.

And nobody on the Reidland football team will be coming to play music. Instead, they'll try to beat Murray High like a drum.

Shades Of '64 As Phils Still Faltering, 'Cards Clip Reds

By BOB GREENE

AP Sports Writer

With a month to go in the National League season, the Philadelphia Phillies are looking over their shoulder — at 1964.

The Phillies were leading the NL East Division by 15 games last week. Now, the Pittsburgh Pirates are just 9½ back and making Phillies Manager Danny Ozark a little uneasy.

"We haven't had a streak like this all year and it is a bad time to have it," Ozark said after the Houston Astros handed the Phillies their sixth straight defeat, 1-0, Wednesday night.

The Pirates defeated San Diego 4-1 to run their winning streak to six in a row.

"Frankly, our chances of getting them are slim, as anyone can see," Pirates Manager Danny Murtaugh said. "But in this game no one ever gives up. All we can do is keep on playing our best and hope."

In other NL games Wednesday, St. Louis edged Cincinnati 1-0 in 11 innings, the New York Mets nipped San Francisco 1-0 and Chicago defeated Atlanta 7-5 in 14 innings. The Los Angeles at Montreal game was postponed because of rain.

In 1964, the Phillies were leading the league by 6½ games with two weeks remaining in the season when they went into a similar tailspin. Philadelphia lost 10 games in a row and the St. Louis Cardinals came on to capture the pennant.

"We're capable of coming out of it and winning some ball games," Ozark said Wednesday after being shut out by rookie Bo McLaughlin, 3-2.

Cliff Johnson's homer in the seventh inning was all McLaughlin needed as he scattered six hits in picking up his second shutout of the season. Jim Kaat, 11-10, was the loser.

Pirates 4, Padres 1

Four unearned runs and a seven-hitter by pitchers Bruce Kison and Kent Tekulve gave Pittsburgh victory over San Diego, the Pirates' sixth straight win. The Pirates scored all of their runs in the fourth, aided by an error by San Diego second baseman Tito Fuentes which allowed the first run of the inning to score. Richie Hebner doubled in the second run and then Kison, 11-8, capped the inning with his two-run single.

Cubs 7, Braves 5

Jerry Morales' fourth hit of the game drove in two runs in the 14th inning to give Chicago its triumph over Atlanta. The game, which was delayed twice by rain, was tied in the bottom of the ninth when the Braves' Ken Henderson smacked a two-run homer, his 13th of the season.

Cardinals 1, Reds 0

Reliever Rawly Eastwick walked Don Kessinger with the bases full in the bottom of the 11th to give St. Louis its victory over Cincinnati. Eastwick, 9-5, who came on at the start of the inning, loaded the bases on a double by Keith Hernandez, an intentional walk and Charlie Chant's bunt single.

Mets 1, Giants 0

Jerry Koosman's three-hitter and doubles by Felix Millan and John Milner lifted the New York Mets past San Francisco.

Koosman, 17-8, struck out six and walked just one as he outdueled John Montefusco, 13-12.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK — National Football League teams, with the exception of expansion clubs Seattle and Tampa Bay, will be limited to 43 players with no taxi squads this season, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced.

DOVER, Del. — Delaware kicked off its controversial pro football lottery games with plenty of fans and some other states watching to see if the courts block the betting games.

Kidd Says Eastern May Have Too Much Respect

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Eastern Kentucky Coach Roy Kidd is in the mood for a little less respect these days as he prepares his football team for Friday night's season opener at Dayton.

Kidd pleads that his team is too inexperienced to be expected to equal last year's 8-2-1 record, and insists instead that the four Tennessee members of the Ohio Valley Conference should receive some attention.

"I really don't know what to expect," Kidd lamented as he looked ahead to the first weekend of the college football season. "We've got some awful good people in some positions, but we're green in some other positions, and if those people — for instance, our offensive line — don't do their job, it's certainly not going to do us any good to have some Talberts and McCallisters and Mitchells and those people."

Everett Talbert, Scott McCallister and Stan Mitchell are three fine running backs who will carry most of Eastern's hopes for a repeat of last year's 8-2-1 record. But Kidd isn't sure that trio, along with standout quarterback Ernie House, will get sufficient blocking aid to carry out their respective tasks.

"I don't know if we're ready to play a game, but we need to play a game to find out some things," Kidd said. "I think what we need is to get a game under our belts."

Friday's game kicks off the season for four OVC teams. On Saturday, Murray entertains Southeast Missouri, Morehead State hosts Marshall and Middle Tennessee meets Tennessee State at Nashville.

Defending co-champions Western Kentucky and Tennessee Tech, along with Austin Peay and East Tennessee, open their seasons Sept. 11.

Kentucky State travels to Hillsdale, Mich., in the other Saturday game involving a Blue Grass school.

"We think Dayton (5-6 last year, including a 30-24 loss to Eastern) will be an improved team, because they can start a letterman or a returning starter at almost every position, and we can't," Kidd said. "We're about as young as we've been since 1969."

Looking past their openers, both Kidd and Murray's Bill Furgerson foresee a much stronger title challenge from Tennessee schools this season. Both figure Tennessee Tech will be in the thick of the title chase, with Middle Tennessee, East Tennessee and Austin Peay each showing marked improvement.

"I'd say East Tennessee has a better chance than they've had the past couple years to beat both of us (Eastern and Western)," said Kidd. "Both of us have lost a lot of people. Austin Peay can start a starter at every position. Middle Tennessee was tough offensively last year, so if they can come up with a defense, they'll be tough because they have about the same offense back," he added.

"Western is a perennial favorite, but Tech is a co-favorite to win, and Middle Tennessee is right behind them. And many of us think Austin Peay probably has the best personnel around," added Furgerson.

Furgerson is somewhat unsure about his team, and figures only game experience will answer his many questions.

"In evaluating our team, I guess you could do it simply by saying lack of experience on offense and an experienced defense," he said.

"We're right proud of our secondary. They were second in the nation last year in Division II in pass defense, and if they had knocked down one 11-yard pass, they would have been first," said Furgerson, who expects to see pass-happy Southeast Missouri give that group a severe test Saturday night. "We think that possibly our inexperience on offense could be the big problem."

The key to Murray's offensive hopes is finding a replacement for graduated quarterback Mike Hobbie, who led the OVC in passing and total offense last season.

"We've got another Mike," said Furgerson, referring to sophomore Mike Dickens. "The quarterback position is not one of our problems, except for experience. As a matter of fact, I think we can increase what we can do (on offense) because Mike is a better runner than Hobbie. They have to honor his ability to run the football."

Kentucky State Coach LeRoy Smith will depend on quarterback Curt Sullivan, a junior who set six school records while passing for 5,522 yards and 13 touchdowns. Tony Bowden and Larry Walton will man the wide receiver posts in an effort to replace Sullivan's departed battery mate of last year, Leonard Elston.

"We're expecting a very tough game" at Hillsdale, said Smith, who is looking for a third consecutive winning record after posting a 7-4 mark last season. "A lot of teams schedule a so-called breather for their first game, but this team sure isn't in that category."

Hillsdale, 7-4 last season, features the passing of John Marsotto to wide receiver Greg Della Penna.

Middle Tennessee, 4-7 a year ago, bases its potent offense on fullback Mike Moore, selected the OVC's offensive player of the year after accumulating 1,247 yards last season.

"It looks like everybody is going to be healthy for Saturday night's game, and I'm pleased about that," said Middle Tennessee Coach Ben Hurt. "We have had real good practices this fall. The team attitude and morale has been great."

May Not One To Worry Over Not Getting Much Publicity

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Home run hitters are supposed to drive fancy cars and hog the headlines, but one of the best of the breed, Baltimore's Lee May, labors in obscurity.

He has hit 20 or more home runs in each of the past nine seasons. His three-run homer Wednesday night, which helped Baltimore beat the Kansas City Royals 7-1, tied him with Sal Bando of Oakland for the American League lead with 24. His four runs batted in raised his league-leading total to 90. But still the headlines have escaped him.

"That has been the story of my life," May said. "I have learned to live with it. But if you do enough, the owners know it and they give you a decent salary."

"A lot of guys like to see their names in the papers, but I don't read the papers. I don't care about ink. I'm a low-key guy. I can't stand a lot of controversy."

In other American League games, the Boston Red Sox beat the Texas Rangers 3-0, the Minnesota Twins edged the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2 in 12 innings, the Cleveland Indians blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0, the California Angels defeated the Detroit Tigers 4-1 and the Oakland A's shut out the New York Yankees 5-0.

May's three-run homer in the fifth inning capped a five-run outburst that broke the game open for the Orioles. Reggie Jackson, one slugger who gets more than his share of headlines, hit a two-run single right before May connected.

"The race between Reggie and me gives each of us a little extra incentive you need at this time of year," observed May. Jackson has 22 homers and 80 RBI.

Red Sox 3, Rangers 0
Ferguson Jenkins' season ended in the fifth inning against Texas, when the Boston pitcher suffered a torn right Achilles tendon in making a putout at first base. He faced surgery today.

Jenkins allowed four hits for 4 1-3 innings, then reliever Tom Murphy held Texas hitless the rest of the way to get the win.

Indians 3, White Sox 0
Cleveland won its fifth in a row as Jim Bibby, 10-5, pitched a five-hitter. Ray Fosse homered and Buddy Bell doubled home one run and scored another.

Angels 4, Tigers 1
The Angels equalled their longest winning streak of the season, four games, as Frank Tanana raised his record to 15-9 by stopping the Tigers on six hits. Dave Collins had three hits for California, including a two-run double in the fourth inning when the Angels scored all their runs.

Twins 3, Brewers 2
Rod Carew's speed accounted for the Twins' 12th-inning triumph. He beat out a single and then scored all the way from first when catcher Darrell Porter threw Lyman Bostock's sacrifice bunt into right field. Reliever Bill Campbell, 14-4, got the victory.

A's 5, Yankees 0
Oakland pulled to within seven games of first-place Kansas City in the AL West as Vida Blue stopped the Yankees on seven hits. The A's got all their runs off ex-teammate Catfish Hunter, 14-13, who didn't last through the fifth inning.

Yes Virginia, There Are Grid Officials

We aren't going to drop hints.

No, we'll just go right ahead and do like the quarterback facing a fourth and 17 with the ball on his own 25 and just six seconds left in the game. Here comes the bomb.

The odds are you'll see more yellow flags flying around western Kentucky Friday night. You might even see more paper cups flying and hear a lot of deep voices shouting insults. Why?

Some of the best football officials in western Kentucky have resigned. In a meeting held Wednesday, some 30 of the WKC football officials announced their resignation.

The Murray High-Reidland game will be officiated by four "outstanding WKC officials," according to Murray High Coach John Hina.

Hina said that the assignment of regular WKC officials to Friday's game here was confirmed this morning.

There were 35 at the meeting, six of which decided to go ahead and work Friday. The rest of the group which did not show up has not given any indication yet as to what they are going to do.

In all probability, there will be about half of the 60 WKC officials working Friday night's league games. Here's the meat of the problem:

The other officials will come from other parts of the state. Assistant KHSAA commissioner Bill Wise said Wednesday he and WKC commissioner Joe Russell would spend today finding out just how many WKC officials would work Friday.

Then, officials from Louisville, Lexington and Elizabethtown will be brought in to fill in the vacancies.

Most of the officials who will be filling in Friday are probably beginners. The others are officials who probably have not received ratings high enough to work games in their own areas Friday.

To make it even more interesting, Murray High is going to be out just as much money as it was last year in paying the officials.

The "team" of officials are now paid on a basis of 10 cents per mile in excess of 50 miles, calculated on the official who has to drive the longest distance.

That's the main point of the strike. The $25 salary remains the same. But the average official might lose somewhere between $10 to $15 per game in gas expense money.

So even though the home team shouldn't have been paying as much money as they did last year because of the new rule, they'll be paying as much or more now because of the strike and having to import officials from so far away.

But regardless, football will be played Friday night and life will go on.

As assistant KHSAA commissioner Wise said, "Some guys would drive to Mississippi to officiate a game."

Red-Faced Reds

My old friend David Kindred has a great wit and an even better sense of humor.

But I was sorry to hear about Dave getting hit over the head the other day. At least I think he got hit over the head.

Dave wrote in the Courier-Journal about how it was all over. The Reds would cremate the Phillies in the divisional playoffs. He talked about how the Reds were already in the World Series.

Well Dave, if you can do that, here comes my prediction: The Reds can hang it up next year. The Cardinals will knock them off, if the Reds win their division.

Gosh Dave, young fellows like Jerry Mumphrey and Garry Templeton hitting the Reds like that. Gosh Dave, the lowly Cardinals winning two of the three games and losing the other by one run.

Harry who? Rasmussen or some young fellow like that making patsies out of the Reds like he did Thursday night? By the way Dave, Lou Brock didn't even play.

Really Dave, how can the Reds have the playoffs won already when they can't even beat a "Busch" team like the Cardinals?

Jimmy Smith Alive Despite Predictions

By DON COLLINS
Bowling Green Daily News
BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Jimmy Smith is alive and doing fine — seven years after doctors told him he either would be a vegetable the rest of his life, or he would be dead.

Still embedded in Smith's spine is the bullet which severed his motor nerves, leaving him paralyzed from the hips down. He can't walk but he can move his left leg a little.

Does he feel sorry for himself? No, he's too involved with his hobbies: working on antique clocks and gardening.

"They're the two most important material things to me," Smith said. "There ain't many people who can fix clocks, but I can."

He has 31 antique clocks, including a Terry-Edwards mantle steeple clock about 128 years old.

Smith, 48, started working on clocks after his accident. It occurred in April 1969 while he was admiring a gun at a friend's house. The weapon discharged and if Smith had been one inch further forward, the slug would have missed his spine.

"After I got hurt, I just got two clocks alike. One worked and one didn't. I worked on the one that didn't. When I got to a part of the clock that didn't look like the one that wasn't broken, I fixed it," he explained.

Smith farms between a 1/4 of an acre and 1/2 of an acre which contains 18 different kinds of fruits and vegetables. Last summer his wife

Virginia canned 900 quarts of fruits and vegetables and this year they're planning "at least that much and more."

Visitors to the two-bedroom house are rewarded with sacks of canned goods.

When Smith was ready to leave the hospital in 1969, one doctor suggested to Virginia that maybe it would be better if her husband were placed in a Veteran's home. She disagreed.

Doctors who treated Smith the first time told him that if he didn't get any feeling in his legs within a year, he never would.

Smith recalled that he confided to a fellow patient, "I am going to get my damn toe to work." Smith won. The toe works.

Before one of his five operations, Smith was approached by a chaplain who asked if he'd like to be prayed for.

"Pray for her," Smith quipped, pointing to Virginia. "She's the mean one."

Asked about his reaction to the accident, Smith said, "Well, I know one thing. It knocked me out of a half a day's work."

He still visits a Veterans Administration hospital in Nashville once every six months and he lives with constant pain.

But Virginia says this hasn't changed her husband. "He's the same man that he was before the accident."

Special Election Scheduled In 14th

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Thelma Stovall has issued a writ of election to the sheriffs of six counties in the 14th state senatorial district, calling for a special election to be held Nov. 2.

The election is to fill the unexpired term of state Sen. William Gentry, D-Bardonia, who resigned March 19 to accept a post on the state Public Service Commission.

The counties in the district are Anderson, Boyle, Larue, Marion, Nelson and Washington.

Five Awarded Scholarships By Army ROTC

Five students at Murray State University have been named as recipients of Army ROTC scholarships. They include three freshmen selected for three-year awards and two sophomores for two-year awards.

LTC Johnnie Prichard, professor of military science at Murray State, identified the scholarship recipients as follows:

Edwin Courtney, of Madisonville; Steven David of Columbus, Ind.; and James Russell of New Albany, Ind., freshmen recipients of three-year scholarships; and Lyle Cayce of Princeton and Frank A. Palkoska of Burbank, Ill., sophomore recipients of two-year scholarships.

All of the scholarships, which take effect with the beginning of the fall semester, include free tuition, textbooks, and laboratory fees, in addition to a tax-free subsistence allowance of $100 a month for up to 10 months of each school year.

Applicants were screened by a board selected by Prichard. Its choices were sent to ROTC Region Headquarters at Fort Knox for approval. Selection criteria included the students' standing in academic studies and military science courses, campus and community activities, and personal observations of members of the screening board.

The board included Murray State faculty, representatives of the ROTC instructor group, and a senior Army ROTC cadet.

Black Lung Benefit Reform Package Is OK'd After Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor subcommittee has approved a black lung benefits reform package after months of delay.

The legislation, which falls short of demands by coal miners, now goes to the full Labor and Public Works Committee for final action.

A United Mine Workers union spokesman said an effort will be made to liberalize the subcommittee version, approved Tuesday, in the full committee.

The proposed package allows the filing of no new claims after 1981 and automatically entitles a miner to benefits only after 25 years in the mines and only after he is proved disabled.

Competitive Bidding Not Required, Opinion

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state attorney general's office has advised that a county clerk is not required under Kentucky law to submit for competitive bidding election printing supplies, such as ballots.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Charles Runyan, replying to a query by Jefferson County Commonwealth's Atty. David Armstrong, said Kentucky law empowers a county clerk, instead of the fiscal court, to purchase and receive election supplies for the county.

Runyan said the clerk may use competitive bidding if it is practical, but that there is no constitutional or statutory mandate requiring him to submit the supplies to competitive bidding.

Rep. Hays Chooses Resignation As Only Way To Escape

WASHINGTON (AP) — His political power destroyed by scandal, Wayne L. Hays chose resignation from Congress as the only way left to halt the House ethics committee's investigation into payroll-sex charges.

The Ohio Democrat quit late Wednesday after a two-day effort by his aides to negotiate an end to the ethics committee investigation. The ethics panel quickly terminated the probe when Hays resigned.

Hays' resignation ended 28 years in Congress during which he built his chairmanship of the House Administration Committee into a pinnacle of legislative power.

The power he wielded, sometimes with seeming arrogance, began to crumble three months ago when the payroll-sex charge by Elizabeth Ray touched off a

Capitol Hill scandal that involved sex allegations against half a dozen congressmen.

Sources close to the ethics committee said one reason Hays wanted to halt the panel's inquiry was his concern that the publicity and lurid details would put too much emotional pressure on his wife, Pat.

House Speaker Carl Albert told newsmen after he received Hays' resignation letter: "I think he did it to save his family."

Hays' press secretary, Carol Clawson, said earlier this week that Mrs. Hays had suffered emotional stress.

The resignation came two days after the ethics committee voted to begin hearings into the allegations that Hays put Miss Ray on the payroll of the Administration Committee, although she had little to do other than provide him with sex.

The ethics panel had said it would continue with its plans for hearings, despite a plea that Hays was too mentally depressed to defend himself.

Although the resignation halted the ethics panel hearings, it does not affect federal grand jury and Justice Department investigations of the charge. But there have been reports that those probes are stalled because of a lack of corroboration of Miss Ray's story.

Hays' resignation was read to the House about an hour after being delivered to Albert, but it produced no visible reaction from the congressmen present.

The ethics committee voted to end its three-month-old probe of the scandal on grounds that Hays was no longer a congressman and no longer under the panel's jurisdiction.

Committee chairman John Flynt, D-Ga., said the panel did not make a deal with Hays to drop the probe in return for his resignation. He declined to answer when asked if the inquiry had uncovered additional sex allegations.

Washington Roundup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration's $5.9-billion arms package, the bulk of which would go to Iran, faces roadblocks in Congress based on fear of an uncontrollable arms race in the Persian Gulf and concern for Israel's security. Calling the United States the would-be "arms pusher of the century," Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has pledged to introduce resolutions to block most, if not all, of the projected sales to 10 countries before Congress adjourns on Oct. 2.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford and Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi are considering whether to punish FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley for accepting gifts from senior FBI officials. Ford asked Levi on Wednesday for a full report on the situation, and Levi put his staff to work preparing it. Levi said he is reserving judgment on whether Kelley was wrong to accept the gifts, until he reviews the staff report. An FBI spokesman said Kelley is "absolutely not" considering resigning.

Foreign Roundup

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Representatives of the United States and North Korea scheduled another meeting Friday after failing today to wrap up an agreement on arrangements to prevent violence between their forces in the Panmunjom truce village. The secretaries of the Korean Military Armistice Commission have been meeting daily since Tuesday. They are discussing North Korea's proposal that its forces and those of the United Nations Command be separated physically by the military demarcation line which runs through the middle of Panmunjom and the rest of the demilitarized zone. Allied sources said after Wednesday's meeting that agreement on major points was near.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister John Vorster has rejected Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's criticism of South Africa's racial policies, saying "moral lessons and threats" from outsiders will not influence his government. In a statement three days before he and Kissinger meet to discuss racial tensions in southern Africa's white-ruled nations, Vorster said Wednesday that South Africa determines its own internal and foreign policies and will not be dictated to by other nations or individuals. Kissinger said Tuesday apartheid is "incompatible with human dignity."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Some delegates at the Law of the Sea Conference welcomed the U.S. offer to help finance international mining of the seabed in exchange for a guaranteed share for American companies. But they doubted agreement could be reached before the current session of the conference ends Sept. 17. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger made the offer Wednesday in roundtable sessions with about 30 delegations, hoping to break the conference deadlock that has stalled progress toward a comprehensive global treaty covering use of the oceans.

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The Irish parliament moved on today to the second piece of legislation in the government's new campaign against members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army. The emergency powers bill was expected to reach a vote late today and if approved it would go into effect next week. It would empower police to hold suspects for seven days without charges instead of the current two days. Declaration of a state of emergency, approved by Parliament Wednesday, was the first step in Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave's anti-IRA program.

Gen. Francisco "Pancho" Villa, a Mexican rebel leader, was trapped and shot to death in Parral, Mexico, July 20, 1923.

WORKSHOP ROLE-PLAYING — Instructors in a Parent Effectiveness Training Workshop at Murray State University go through a role-playing exercise during a session attended by Bureau for Social Service workers of the Kentucky Department of Human Resources. Shown are Mike Vagnino (with microphone) as he demonstrates one of the skills and Comte Halstead (kneeling), both of Kansas City, Mo. The workshop was conducted Monday and Tuesday and repeated Wednesday and Thursday as a joint project of the state agency and the Center for Regional Services and the Division of Social work at Murray State. The focus of the training attended by about 220 state workers was on effective communication and the resolution of conflict between parent and child.

Family Grocery Bill Only Two Per Cent High Than Year Ago

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Decreases in the amount paid to farmers for their cattle and hogs brought lower meat prices to consumers during August, putting the family grocery bill at a level only 2 per cent higher than it was a year ago, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

The declines were offset slightly by increases in the cost of some dairy products, including butter and eggs. Once again, the price on the supermarket shelf followed the trend at the farm level.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked the same store on or about the start of each succeeding month.

Among the latest findings:

—The marketbasket bill decreased during August at the checklist store in 11 cities, dropping an average of 2.7 per cent. The bill increased at the checklist store in Chicago and Salt Lake City, up an average of 1.7 per cent. Over-all, the bill at the start of September was 2 per cent lower than it was a month earlier.

—The situation over the first eight months of the year was mixed. The marketbasket bill increased at the checklist store in six cities, up an average of 2.4 per cent, and decreased in seven cities, down an average of 2.9 per cent. Over-all, the marketbasket bill at the checklist store was down a fraction of a per cent from the first of the year.

—Comparing prices now with those 12 months earlier, the AP survey showed the marketbasket bill increased at the checklist store in 11 cities and decreased in two. The over-all rise was 2 per cent.

—The price of a pound of center-cut pork chops dropped in August at the checklist store in 11 cities, down an average of 2 per cent. The USDA, in its latest report on farm prices, said the price farmers get for hogs dropped $5.10 per 100 pounds in the month ended Aug. 15.

—Chopped chuck, which has been dropping for several months, declined again at the checklist store in four cities and was unchanged in six cities. The price paid to farmers for their cattle dropped 70 cents per 100 pounds in the July 15 to Aug. 15 period.

Farmers have been complaining that they are losing money on their animals — even though the cost of corn used for feed has been decreasing. The USDA says retailers and processors are not passing all of the savings from lower farm prices on to consumers.

—Higher prices paid to dairy farmers were passed on to consumers. The cost of a dozen eggs went up at the checklist store in nine cities. A pound of butter was up in eight cities.

Both Sides Of Busing Issue Pleased After Opening Day

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Both sides of the school busing controversy say they are pleased that the first day of the second year of court ordered desegregation busing passed without incident.

"From what I've heard to this point, I'm delighted," said U.S. Dist. Judge James F. Gordon, whose order last year to desegregate Louisville-Jefferson County schools sparked frequent violence.

Gordon was in his chambers Wednesday when the news came that first day attendance was high despite a three-day boycott called by antibusing forces.

Bill Kellerman, president of Citizens Against Busing and one of the boycott leaders, felt the first day of school "went pretty much like I thought it would."

Attendance Wednesday was 94,548 — about 20,000 pupils below the projected enrollment of 116,881, Assoc. Supt. Dave Espin said. The figures were in marked contrast to those of last year, when only 55,000 of a projected 134,000 pupil enrollment showed up for classes.

At least part of the decline in enrollment this year is due to white flight, school officials said.

Under a revised busing plan issued by Gordon, some 2,000 more pupils are being bused this year — or 20,000 compared with 18,000 last year.

The buses rolled alone this year, without the police escorts and on board guards present in 1975 — although unmarked police patrols were evident in areas near the schools.

Kellerman attributed the change in mood to new tactics on the part of busing opponents. He said busing foes are becoming "more and more political, they're choosing up candidates, they realize they're not going to beat this overnight or in the streets."

However, no injuries were reported and as dawn edged over the Louisville skyline, a tense calm prevailed.

School officials were optimistic of a good omen. "The attitude of teachers, staff, parents and students is really good and I certainly feel optimistic," said Supt. Ernest Grayson. "... it's hard to compare with last year."

Police used tear gas to disperse an unruly crowd of demonstrators who blocked Preston Highway Tuesday night. Chanting their opposition to busing, the demonstrators — who at one point numbered more than 1,000 — hurled bottles and rocks at police and set several small fires.

"People are going to be a little more sneaky," said Kellerman. He predicted more incidents of "nighttime violence, more of the vigilante-type action like they had in Boston last year."

"We're going to have to beat it at the polls," said Kellerman.

He added that violence around the schools — with the exception of an incident Tuesday night near Southern High School in which six persons were arrested — has declined because "people aren't going to take the foolish chances that they did last year."

Senate Approves

New Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to exempt a number of farming and forestry operations from controversial water pollution control requirements met Senate approval Wednesday.

Legislators said the action followed an outpouring of protests, including many from Kentucky.

The Senate also passed an amendment proposed by U.S. Sen. Walter "Dee" Huddleston, D-Ky., to further specify lands that would be free of the controls.
